A DEDICATION

It is such an honour to get to run this convention for a second year. Everything from the community to the staff has grown so much, we are genuinely without words to express our gratitude to a satisfying degree. From the Gregories to the Tumblrinas.

Once again, we couldn't have done this without you.

With all the love in the world,

THE DASHCON 2 TEAM.

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITY

Researchers with Miami University and Pellissippi State Community College want to learn about internet culture, social change, and education at Dashcon 2

If you are attending Dashcon 2, you are invited to participate in an interview and/or a survey for a research project being conducted by Dr. Raegan Yessler from Pellissippi State Community College and Nessie O'Neil from Miami University. The purpose of the research study is to understand the ways that Dashcon 2 can change behavior outside of the convention space, and how conventions can act as learning spaces.

Schedule an interview

If you are a Dashcon 2 attendee, staffer, panelist, or vender, email Dr. Reagan Yessler at Ryessler@pstcc.edu to get more information on our study and to schedule an interview. The total time commitment is between 1-2 hours.

Attend a science education panel? Take our survey!

If you attended ‘Raccoon Patch Update 6.7’ or ‘Bug Ass: Adventures in Entomology’, Scan the QR code or visit forms.gle/bvsXF6fa5LeFtjFy9 to take our anonymous survey. This survey will take between 10-20 minutes.

More Information

Participation in this research is restricted to persons 18 years of age or older. There are no foreseeable risks and/or discomforts associated with this study greater than those experienced in daily life. There may be no direct benefit to you. Possible benefits for others include an advanced understanding of conventions as learning spaces, and the role Dashcon and Dashcon 2 play in changing behavior and internet culture. The Miami University Research Ethics & Integrity Program reviewed this study and determined its exempt status, 05395e.

VIRTUAL DASH

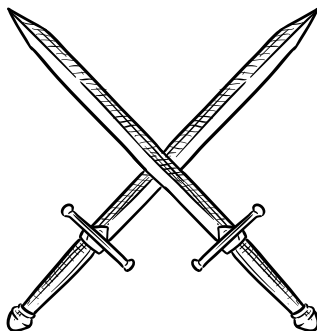

JOIN OUR ONLINE BATTALION OF FELLOW TUMBLRINAS

Much like pouring river water into your socks, it's quick, it's easy, and it's free!

THE EIGHT TENANTS OF THE ROYAL-REVOLUTIONARY “PUT THE SWORD DOWN” AGREEMENT:

1. The 2026 convention’s theme of “Galaxy” has been toppled, overthrown by the revolutionaries and replaced with “Revolution!” (Galaxy is permitted to be used in a later year.)
2. The convention shall henceforth be referred to as DashCon 2: Vive La Révolution! as its official title.
3. The Ball Pit Queen shall not be executed (for now), but will have no legal power, instead being used as a figurehead in case an event needs a little pizzazz.
4. To appease our insurance overlords, the People (attendees of the convention) will be authorized to vote on who to kill. Each person will have only one vote, so cast it wisely—or don’t. We’re not cops.
5. For accessibility of voting, VirtualDash attendees will also be able to vote on who to kill.
6. The People shall choose between executing either Sir Strange, Lord of Æons, Wielder of the Muppetslayer and Honourable First Knight of the Realm... or Robespierre himself. Interesting.
7. He who is chosen to die will be executed via guillotine live on stage. (Robespierre was insistent.)
8. The severed head of the executed will be auctioned off for charity via raffle :)
